Town Meeting Monday May Be Short Session

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover's 1982 annual town meeting, to be called to order at 7:30 p.m. Monday at East Junior High's Memorial Auditorium, may turn out to be one of the shortest in recent memory — just two nights long.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said this week that the town meeting warrant, already on the brief side with 49 articles, has been trimmed to 45 articles, with four withdrawn.

And the manager said he expects at least some of the 15 street acceptance articles to be withdrawn, because developers have not had enough time to finish work on their streets since it snowed two weeks ago.

For those reasons, he predicted the annual meeting — the first in Mahony's career as a municipal manager — may well be wrapped up Tuesday night.

According to his own informal survey of managers in other towns, the manager said voters have been staying away from town meetings already held this year by the hundreds. Apparently many people feel that with Proposition 2½, their tax rates are secure and they can safely stay home.

But Andover officials are banking on And-overites' usual lively interest in town affairs to supply a quorum of 350 voters.

The most interesting item on the agenda promises to be reuse of East Junior High and other town buildings, moved up from Article 11 to tenth place on the warrant because Article 10 (a proposed amendment to the earth removal zoning bylaw) has been withdrawn.

That topic will probably come up Monday night, or possibly very early Tuesday night, the manager said.

Members of the reuse committee are

Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony took rake and plastic bag in hand and joined with Boy Scouts from St. Augustine's Parish and others last Saturday morning to clean up "The Boulders" reservation off School street. Marilyn Lewis was the leader of this group, one of several conservation volunteers working to rid the various town reservations of litter. The groups will be working in the Carmel Woods area this coming Saturday morning.

Photographs by Andover resident James Sheldon are on exhibit in Boston at The Art Institute of Boston's Gallery East through April 28. His large color prints of the Merrimack Valley area are part of an exhibition entitled "Nine Documentary Photographers."

An instructor at Phillips Academy and curator at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Sheldon is a photographer interested in culture. This interest draws him to the monoliths humanity builds to transform the world, like the mills and industrial buildings in the Merrimack Valley. For Sheldon, these buildings are a form of sculpture.

Visitors are welcome to view "Nine Documentary Photographers" Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

REAL ESTATE EXAM COURSE

An 8-week course, "Preparation for Mass. Real Estate Salesperson's Examination" will be conducted for men and women by Essex County Adult Education center at the Andover YMCA beginning May 3. Classes will meet weekly from 7 to 10 p.m. The course will include the basic fundamentals of the real estate business with a thorough prep for the state examination.

Advanced registration is required and will be held at the Andover YMCA on Monday, April 26, from 7-8:15 P.M.

To Clarify Employee Designation

Who is a "special employee" of the town, and who is not? That's up to the Board of Selectmen, and the way the board has handed out that designation in the past has led to some "serious inequities" among town volunteers, the town manager said last week.

Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that under the state's conflict of interest statute, members of town boards, commissions and committees may not submit bids to do work for the town.

But the selectmen may declare anyone a "special employee," allowing that person to be contracted to work for the town.

That practice is not only unfair to some town volunteers, but sometimes restricts the town from getting the best possible bids as well, Mahony noted. He recommended the selectmen develop a new policy for naming special employees.

Mahony suggested giving entire boards or committees the designation, rather than just individuals, but Chairman Norma Gammon said she could "see some real problems with that."

The board indicated they would seek "clarification" from legal counsel before acting on the manager's recommendation.

To Hold Hearings On Streets

The selectmen will hold a public hearing on 15 streets up for acceptance as public ways at 6 p.m. Monday at East Junior High's Memorial Auditorium, just before annual town meeting convenes at 7:30 p.m.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said this week he believes many of those streets will not be ready for acceptance and will be withdrawn from the warrant because the snowstorm earlier this month delayed the correction of problems on the streets.

The selectmen must lay out the streets — that is, find they are in acceptable shape to become public ways — before town meeting can consider them.

Streets now on the warrant are Crescent Drive, Shattuck Road, Yardley Road, Garfield Lane North, East and West, Copely Drive, Bristol Lane, Waverly Drive, Germano Way, Barbara Lane, Dundas Avenue, Greybirch Road and Greenbriar Circle.

Earth Removal Problems Return

Earth removal at the Andover Country Club site, in the first phases of development into a 270-lot subdivision, may be making an annual comeback as a problem for neighbors.

Selectmen last week said they have already began receiving calls and complaints from abutters of the construction site, located off Canterbury Street, with spring just beginning. Neighbors began to complain of problems with blowing sand, noise and vibrations when construction began in the fall of 1979.

The selectmen issued a gravel removal permit to the developer, Yvon Cormier, for one section of the development in June, 1980. The permit placed more than 30 restrictions on the developer, which the selectmen hoped would help control problems at the site.

With that permit up for its second annual renewal this spring, selectmen said they would have the town manager "look into" current problems on the site.

Cormier's engineers estimate some 1,760,000 cubic yards of earth material will have to be removed from five of seven sections of the country club to build a cluster development.

AMC Plans Clean-Up Party At Carmel Woods

The Appalachian Mountain Club is hosting another Clean-Up Party this weekend, in honor of April, "Earth Month."

Willing townspeople are invited to help clean up the Carmel Woods Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. (Sunday if it rains), under the leadership of Sophia Amsterdamska.

Volunteers are asked to bring "a bag and a friend," Louise Van Everen of the A.M.C. Club says, and meet at the Carmel Road entrance to the reservation.

A.M.C. members and helpers will also clean up the canoe launches this weekend, led by Dave Dargie. Volunteers should meet at the end of Lowell Junction Road.

COA Director Attends Annual Conference

Dorothy Winn, director of the Andover Council on Aging, was among 3,000 practitioners in aging who attended the 32nd Annual Conference of the National Council on Aging in Washington, D.C., March 31-April 3.

Vice President Bush, former Vice President Mondale, White House aide Elizabeth Dole and U.S. Commissioner of Aging Lennie-Marie Tolliver were among those who addressed the meeting.

In addition, a joint congressional hearing, chaired by Senator John Heinz (R-Pa.) and Representative Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) was held to examine the impact of the administration's proposed budget cuts on the nation's 26 million older Americans. The executive director of the National Council on the Aging, Jack Osofsky, led the roster of those testifying at the hearing.

The 32nd annual meeting offered training sessions, workshops and seminars covering such "pocket-book" issues as Medicare, housing, work and retirement. Winn led a seminar entitled "Marketing the Senior Center for Fiscal Stability."

Other sessions, including an address by Frank Mankiewicz and Ruth Glick, were held on life enrichment issues such as education, culture, creativity and the arts and humanities.

Winn, who also serves as president of the Massachusetts Association of Councils on Aging, led a group to Capitol Hill to meet with the Massachusetts Congressional Delegation to discuss proposed cuts of Older Americans programs. A highlight of this meeting was the presentation of a petition of 12,000 signatures supporting continuation of the Senior Aides Program to Speaker O'Neil and Congressmen Shannon, Heckler, Frank, Studds and Moakley.

"This was one of the finest I have ever attended," Winn said. "Being in the nation's capital, where so many critical issues are debated, was vital to my role in working with the older population."

League Supports Eight Articles

The League of Women Voters of Andover will enter Town Meeting, beginning Monday, April 26, with support positions on eight articles and oppose positions on two others. Member consensus was reached during two warrant units held last week. Such actions can be taken by applying positions which were reached after previous studies. President Linda Carpenter announces the following:

Article 11—Supports reuse of Public Buildings. This article allows the town manager and selectmen to propose to future Town Meetings possible municipal use of Town Hall, the Theater Building, Shawsheen School and the library while appropriating approximately $3,500,000 for the conversion of the present East Junior High for municipal use. The League agrees that such planning meets their position on planning and land use, especially as it applies to the central business district, and in keeping Andover primarily residential.

Article 21—Opposes rezoning of a single residence "A" to Office Park Business District on North Main Street since it does not follow the Master Plan and removes a parcel of land from residential zoning, again in opposition to keeping Andover primarily residential.

Articles 22, 23, 24—Supports the acquisition of land by the Conservation Commission at Fish Brook, B&M Right of Way and Wood Hill allowing for open space acquisition and consequent protection of run-off areas affecting the town water supply.

Article 25—Opposes this article, which would delete a portion of the Town Bylaws. The League of Women Voters of Andover wishes this bylaw be retained since it allows the Finance Committee the authority and responsibility to not permit a Special Town Meeting where appropriation of funding would be made on an article they could not recommend. The LWV believes that efficient and economical government requires competent personnel, the clear assignment of responsibility, adequate financing and coordination among the different agencies and levels of government.

Article 34—Supports updating the current Master Plan. The League has a national position on land use as well as a local position calling for careful planning and management of all land as a finite resource.

Article 43—Supports the construction of a replacement to the present Riverina Pumping Station. National environmental quality positions deal with proper waste management and the protection of water quality.

Article 45—Supports funding the refurbishing of the high school tennis courts which follows recommendations of a local position on maintenance of existing public recreational areas.

Article 48—Support—The article appropriates money for conservation purposes and is equivalent to that received from the Massachusetts Self-Help Program. Supported under the local conservation position.

Health Plan For Valley Completed

The Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council has completed the 1982 Health Systems Plan. The plan is a five-year projection of health care resources and needs for the Merrimack Valley and includes specific strategies and goals to improve the health of residents and contain health care costs. An Annual Implementation Plan is included in the Health Plan.

The Health Systems Plan is especially useful to those working in health care services, students and those providing services to the health care field. The information on local health services and resources is also useful to the consumers who utilize these services.

Areas covered in the new health plan include health status for the Merrimack Valley, health promotion and disease prevention, occupational health and environmental issues, ambulatory services, emergency medical services, acute inpatient care, specialty services and home health care services.

The Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council is a community non-profit agency mandated by the federal government, and has been threatened with severe budget decreases due to federal budget cuts.

Copies of the Health Systems Plan will be available at the main libraries of Newburyport, Haverhill, Lawrence and Lowell. Any individuals or groups wishing to order a copy should contact the council office, 191 Parker St., Lawrence.

Vial Of Life Kits Are Available

The Greater Lawrence Community Action Council, Inc. is again promoting its Vial of Life Program for the residents of Greater Lawrence.

Available free of charge is a kit which contains a vial, medical data sheets and emblems which are used to identify individuals with medical problems or who are taking special medications.

The vial is placed in the refrigerator and/or the car glove compartment. A sticker is then placed on the outside of the refrigerator and glove compartment to alert people of the information inside the vial, should an emergency occur. Local area medical personnel have been trained to look for these stickers when responding to emergencies.

New this year are kits written in Spanish. Although these kits are available to anyone with a medical problem, the elderly in particular are urged to obtain this potentially life-saving package. The kits can be obtained at the GLCAC, Inc., office, 350 Essex St., Lawrence, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Presentations may be arranged for groups or organizations by contacting Christine Kuzmitski at GLCAC, Inc.

The kits have been made available through the courtesy of St. John's Hospital, Lowell, and the stickers, courtesy of Alderman Terrance Schiavone.

Has Lead Role In Musical

Andover resident Juli Wood will portray Maria in the North Reading Theatre Workshop's upcoming production of "The Sound of Music," the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical based on the real-life adventures of the Von Trapp family in Austria just before World War II. The role is a demanding one, but Wood brings to the stage her experience in other leading roles with the Theatre Workshop. She starred as Annie Oakley in last fall's "Annie Get Your Gun," played Zaneeta in "The Music Man," and Bianca/Lois Lane in "Kiss Me, Kate." She was a member of the chorus for other Workshop productions and also appeared in "Guys and Dolls" and "Fiddler on the Roof" while at North Reading High School. She performed professionally in a summer stock production of "Oklahoma," as Gertie.

Wood has been active with the Theatre Workshop for several years and is a member of its board of directors. Originally from North Reading, Wood, husband, Brian, and two daughters, Heather and Brianne, have made their home in Andover for the past two years.

"The Sound of Music," produced and directed by Paul D. Greene, will be performed at the John T. Berry Center, Route 62, North Reading, at 8 p.m. on April 23, 24, 40 and May 1. There will be a special Sunday performance at 5 p.m. on April 25. For tickets or further information, contact Mrs. Wood.

Andover High School seniors, Stefanie Heiter and Kim Pfister, are coaches and directors of the show. Cindy Darois is in charge of scenery and special effects while Gil DeMoor, Bob Wright and Carol Robb will do lighting.

Participants in the water are Heiter, Pfister, Vicky Robb, Nancy LaRue, Rick LaRue, Jodi Davison, Marilyn Fitzgerald,

Dartmouth Student Honored

Martha L. Viehmann, a Dartmouth College junior has been cited by a professor of classics for outstanding academic achievement during the past term. The professor of a Greek and Roman Studies course noted that her work was "extremely intelligent, original and substantive" and that "she was a pleasure to have in the course."

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Viehmann, 35 Lucerne Drive, Andover, Viehmann has been previously cited for academic excellence in Native American Studies and is a member of the student center governing board. She has also worked as an intern at the Women's Crisis Center of Manchester, N.H. Viehmann is a 1978 graduate of Phillips Academy at Andover.

Citation winners are quite unusual among the 4,000 undergraduates on the Dartmouth campus, as members of the faculty are invited to submit Citation Reports only when a student's work is sufficiently distinguished to merit special recognition. Such citations are rare, and relatively few are submitted each term.

"Oklahoma" Preparations Underway

"We're having the best time! I never knew working in a play could be this demanding, and yet so much fun at the same time," said Claire Hollenbeck who will play Ado Annie in the production of "Oklahoma" to be presented by the Andover High School music and drama clubs on May 6, 7 and 8 at West Junior High School Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Tickets for the annual high school musical production are will be on sale at Liggett's in Shawshen Plaza and Thompson's Stationery Store, Main Street, Andover. A special discounted ticket price for adults, students and senior citizens is available for the Thursday evening performance.

A favorite for several generations, "Oklahoma," as presented by Andover High School, promises to be entertaining for the whole family. Scenes, lines and musical numbers are being executed while new set designs and ideas are becoming a reality. The Saturday set-calls and regular evening rehearsals are engaging the stage crew and cast members in the hard work that goes into putting on a successful performance. The students hope that everyone in the community will come to see "Oklahoma" as a highlight to their spring plans.

Meeting

hoping voters will approve their plan to attract developer's proposals for two wings of East, along with Town Hall, the Essex Street Theatre Building, and the Shawsheen School. Plans to expand the library are also tied into the article.

Earlier on the warrant, the school department's $12.9 million budget may stir up some debate (Article 4).

Although town and school budgets were approved quickly and painlessly for the past two years, this year voters may have their own ideas about how the School Committee should have cut $1.3 million from its budget, to meet the demands of Prop. 2½.

On the town side, voters will review a budget of roughly $14.5 million.

Article 25, a proposal to remove the Finance Committee's veto power over special town meetings that would appropriate funds, might spark a bit of controversy, too.

That article was inserted by a citizens' group after the FinComm squelched their plans for a gypsy moth special town meeting last December. But town officials are united in their opposition to the article, in the name of fiscal prudence.

The second largest appropriation on the warrant, after the $3.5 million East Junior High proposal, will be a $1 million request to help replace the Riverina Road pumping station. That will be discussed near the end of the meeting; it is Article 43 on the warrant.

Consumer Protection Available And It's Being Made Known

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Massachusetts offers more legal protection to consumers than most other states in the nation.

But those laws "aren't of any value to you," State Secretary of Consumer Affairs Eileen Schell points out, "if you don't know about them."

"Our formal education system doesn't tell you how to spend money, only how to earn it," she notes. "So unfortunately, when it's time to make a major investment — such as in home improvements — many people learn at the school of hard knocks."

Since she was appointed to Governor Edward King's cabinet in January, 1979, Mrs. Schell has been traveling across the state, trying to make consumers aware of how the Office of Consumer Affairs can help them.

As part of that effort, next week, April 25-May 1, has been declared the third annual Consumer Education Week.

During a recent interview with the TOWNSMAN in Andover, the consumer secretary explained that her office regulates a "mixed bag" of businesses and industries in the state: banking, insurance, public utilities, racing, alcoholic beverages, standards of weights and measures, professional license registrations, and cable television.

With fees and fines charged against the industries it regulates, the Consumer Affairs office generated nearly $60 million in revenues for the state last year, according to Secretary Schell, while operating on a $16 million budget.

Secretary Schell began working as a self-employed certified management consultant 18 years ago. A Stanford University graduate and Fulbright Scholar with an M.A. and Ph.D. from Boston University, she is a former faculty member of Boston University Graduate School of Liberal Arts, and Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration. She is married and the mother of two daughters.

Since she took over the secretary's post, her office has placed greater emphasis on consumer education and "self help" than have past administrations, Mrs. Schell says.

"The most pressing consumer problem in this state right now is that consumers are not properly informed — they are unaware of their rights and their responsibilities."

For that reason, her office now publishes 22 free brochures that explain the most widely-used consumer laws, and try to answer the most-asked questions: titles range from "Consumer's Guide to Wood Stoves, Buying Wood, and Space Heaters", to "Leases and Rental Agreements: The Tenant's Commandments."

"We don't editorialize," Secretary Schell says of the pamphlets. "We just state what the law is, in plain English. The law can be confusing, but these booklets are written so that when you read it, you'll understand it."

Her office also offers a self-help information line that logs some 38,000 calls a year. Consumers who call the information line at 727-7780 are told their rights, and given advice and referrals.

The number-one consumer complaint in Andover is probably the same as the number-one problem throughout the state, Mrs. Schell says: trouble with used-cars and auto repairs. Landlord-tenant disputes and problems with home improvement projects are close runners-up.

In addition to promoting consumer education, Consumer Affairs also lobbies for new consumer-oriented legislation — and sometimes has to "man the barricades" to preserve existing laws.

An example: Massachusetts is one of only four states that requires grocery stores to put prices on every item, a law that makes comparison-shopping easier and helps prevent errors at computerized check-outs, the secretary says.

Consumer Affairs recently help defeat proposed legislation that would have removed price stickers from supermarket products.

Earlier this month, the governor signed into law a bill that increases the limit on small claims action from $750 to $1,200, a step that Secretary Schell says is meant to reflect the increased cost of living. (The limit had not been increased since 1978, while the cost-of-living index has risen by 46 percent since then.)

With that higher limit, more consumers will be able to take their cases to small claims court, she adds, without having to agree upon an "artificially low" settlement, or hire an attorney.

Another consumer-protection law enacted this year requires stricter design safety standards for children's car seats. Studies have shown that 50 percent of fatalities and 60 percent of injuries could be avoided if car seats were used properly, the secretary notes.

Mrs. Schell says she believes that consumers can be effective advocates for their own rights when they have the right information. "I find that people are becoming better-informed, that they can make the system respond to their needs."

"I have seen people for the first time assert themselves — particularly the elderly, who often live alone and don't want to create a furor. I've seen them learn that they can be firm and stand up for themselves. There's a great satisfaction in that."

ADMINISTRATIVE REDUCTIONS: A total of $168,061 was eliminated from the administrative accounts including the Superintendent's Office, Assistant Superintendent's Offices, Personnel and Business Offices, Supervisors and Principals. A total of 1.6 Supervisors were eliminated. No Principals or Asst. Principals were eliminated. More than half of the reductions (55.5%) in these accounts resulted from the elimination of secretarial positions. Changes in Administration and Supervision of staff will be negligible.

TEACHING: Elementary: The elimination of 9 teaching positions (5 due to declining enrollment) coupled with a reduction of 25% of Aide time have jeopardized the ability to maintain individualized instructional programs in reading and mathematics. Class sizes for instructional groupings will range from a low of 18 to a high of approximately 38. The future of the Traditional Program remains undetermined. Secondary: A total of 13.3 teaching positions have been eliminated. While no reductions were made in the English Department, teachers will continue to be 25 students above the caseload recommended by the National Council of Teachers of English for the teaching of composition skills. A reduction of 3.5 Science teachers means that at the High School courses that require labs will be reduced by one instructional period per week. The reduction of 2.4 Mathematics teachers will limit the number of electives offered, increase class sizes, and limit High School student time on computer terminals or eliminate 150 students from programming courses. The reduction of 1.4 Foreign Language teachers will cause the elimination of the German program, elimination of levels in French 1 and 2 and combination of 4th & 5th year students in French and Spanish. Physical Education class time in 11th and 12th grades, and electives in the P.E. program will be reduced. The Graphic Arts program will be eliminated. Individualized attention for below average students and ability to deliver advanced placement courses will be severely impaired.

SPECIAL EDUCATION: A reduction of the equivalent of 4 full time positions means that in Speech, Resource Rooms and Learning Disabilities Tutoring some students will be grouped inappropriately in violation of Ch. 766 Regulations. Group sizes will increase and students who cannot be accommodated by existing groups will be placed on waiting lists. Individual student progress will be slower.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS: The final budget of $250,000 is $90,000 or 26.5% less than the amount included in the 14.3 million dollar budget. This is coupled with a 67.6% reduction in the Textbook account, a 15.9% reduction in the Library account and an 80% reduction in the Equipment account.

AUDIO-VISUAL SERVICES: The elimination of 2 Media Librarians combined with a reduction in aide time means that elementary schools will no longer have a full-time media specialist and the High School will have one Media Librarian to cover 2 library rooms. Highly qualified professionals will spend more of their time putting books on shelves and filing and reduced time in the instruction of students.

GUIDANCE: The elimination of 1 Guidance Counselor at the Junior High level will decrease home-school communication and classroom instruction make individualized attention to student scheduling needs more difficult, and limit assistance given to students in solving day-to-day problems.

EVALUATION: The elimination of a half-time Building Chairperson means that system-wide, some Ch 766 Evaluations will not be completed within required timelines. The elimination of 1 adjustment Counselor means that already strained caseloads will increase, and some students will be placed on waiting lists. The reduction in summer staff means that students who move to Andover during the summer will not be evaluated or have an Educational Plan developed until after school begins in September.

HEALTH: The elimination of one Nurse means that the 4 elementary schools will be served by one Nurse who will be assigned part of her time to each building. Impact on the Kindergarten screening program remains undetermined. The comprehensive dental health program offered for more than a decade will be eliminated.

As you consider the School Committee budget, we suggest that you think back to your days as a public school student. When you remember your school building, your principal, your textbooks and instructional materials, we think that you will agree with us that . . .

A Flying Career That Landed At The Airport

By Sue Aucella Deacon

He meant to take a year off when he retired, after spending 28 years ("all my life") in the U.S. Air Force.

But how could he turn down a chance to manage the Lawrence Municipal Airport when that opportunity suddenly presented itself?

"It was kind of a natural," Col. Thomas Davies explains ten years later, sitting at his desk in his airport office. "It was in my own community, and I was committed to staying in this area. And anything that has anything to do with flying, I enjoy. I've been flying all my life."

Or at least since he was 19 years old, when the Andover native and Pynchard High School graduate (Class of 1940) graduated from military flying school in Oklahoma. That day still "stands out" as the highlight of a career that included two wars.

"That was before all the wars," the colonel recalls. "I was just a second lieutenant, a year out of high school. That was a pretty big accomplishment for me at the time. It was a big deal."

Tall and slim, Col. Davies reveals his military background in his bearing and his crisp, no-nonsense manner. He lives on Lincoln Street with his wife of 31 years, Justine; their two sons live in Andover as well.

He earned a business degree at the University of Texas, where the Air Force assigned him in 1959 — "I was a 30-year-old college student" — after he had taken a year's worth of college courses at night.

After serving in Texas and "many other places in the United States," Davies was stationed in Saudi Arabia and France. In 1951 he was on reserve status, back in Andover and meeting his future wife, when he was called back to fly transport aircraft in Korea.

Years later, he would serve in Vietnam, "off and on from 1966 to 1970, up to a month before I retired." That tour of duty proved to be, for Davies, "a lot more hazardous" than Korea: The experience was, he says dryly, "lousy."

"I was in electronic surveillance, a rather dangerous operation. We were flying old-fashioned airplanes, and the losses were high. But I survived," he says. "That's the main thing."

The country of Vietnam, Davies adds, "if you took away the war, was a beautiful place."

The colonel had just retired and was looking forward to a year of leisure when he heard the City of Lawrence needed a new manager to run its municipal airport. It was just the kind of job he had in mind; it was an opportunity he couldn't pass up.

He's been immersed in the job ever since. "I like the whole thing," he says. "I enjoy coming to work." He comes to work not just nine to five, but "pops in and out" at night, on weekends and on holidays, because the airport operates every hour of every day.

In business since the early '30s, the airport serves "an even mix" of private and commercial aircraft, with most of the commercial flights coming in on corporate business. The airport's list of more than 50 corporate users includes the Bendix Corporation, Bristol Myers, Conoco, Georgia Pacific, Owens Corning Fiberglass, and WBZ.

The busy airport is also populated by 150 private aircraft, a jet charter service that recently moved out from Logan Airport, two flying schools, a business that tows advertising messages (the kind seen flying over beaches on summer days), and a number of private aviation services and airlines. All lease space from the city.

The airport's two runways see about 150,000 "operations" (take-offs and landings) each year, "in the neighborhood of" 400 each day, and sometimes up to 900 a day (including practice landings by beginning pilots), according to Davies.

Located off Sutton Street in North Andover, the airport property consists of 430 acres, 350 of it used for aviation. (Much of that is "clear zone" land that cannot be developed, because it must remain unobstructed.) The city owns a one-mile runway and a shorter, 3,900-foot runway, a terminal building, a maintenance building that houses trucks and field equipment, and a control tower.

The control tower is a current source of frustration for Davies. Built two years ago to improve safety and bring the Lawrence airport up to "controlled" status, it was left unmanned just 11 months later, when the air traffic controllers went on strike and were subsequently fired by the federal government.

The tower been empty ever since, and now sits waiting for a new batch of controllers to be trained, which will be "at least another year," the colonel believes.

"The tower is beautiful, brand new, with all the latest equipment," he notes. "We started out with it manned eight hours a day, then built up to 12, and were working up to 16 hours a day with two shifts. Then the bottom fell out."

With a new tower augmented by a new, up-to-date landing system, "everything that Logan has," Davies had hoped to attract commercial airlines to the airport. The last one, Northeast Airlines (now defunct), left several years ago because the airport did not have adequate navigational facilities.

Davies was "on the verge" of discussions with "a couple" of airlines last summer when he lost his controllers. Still, he sees "a very strong possibility" that commercial airlines will return to Lawrence one day: "That's one thing I want to accomplish before I leave here."

Besides supervising the overall, day-today operation of the airport with the help of a permanent staff of four, Col. Davies is responsible for major maintenance and development projects, and one of his "big jobs" is to secure funding for those projects from the state and federal governments.

The airport is now 80 percent self-sufficient, covering most of its own expenses with fees and land leases; the remaining 20 percent comes from the Lawrence city budget. Making the airport 100 percent self-supporting within the next four years is another of the manager's goals, especially in light of recent municipal budget cuts.

But neither the airport nor the city could afford to pay for projects like runway repairs, light replacements or new navigational aids, Davies says, projects that cost "hundreds of thousands of dollars." So Lawrence airport must compete with other small airports across the country for federal funding.

The colonel acts "almost like a lobbyist," fighting for funds from the Federal Aviation Administration in Burlington and the Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission at Logan. "I walk those halls a lot," he says, calling that part of his job "a year-long hassle."

Leasing out airport land for commercial development is another facet of managing the airport, one the colonel has expanded during his tenure and considers his "baliwick." Ground will soon be broken for a new industrial park off Sutton Street, he points out, and more development may be ahead.

The airport itself has no room to expand physically, he adds, but he is interested in improving maintenance operations and the utilization of the land. Among the other long-range projects Davies has in mind: rehabilitating the instrument runway and the lighting system, getting the access roadway in better shape, and upgrading the airport's buildings.

Always on call, the manager may be summoned to the airport in the middle of the night because the landing lights have gone out, police have reported a prowler, or a pilot has forgotten to notify the FAA of his landing (in which case Davies must check to see if the plane has landed.)

He and his "very capable" assistant manager, Robert Severius, also take turns driving through the airport each night to make sure all is well.

And in the unfortunate event of an airplane crash anywhere in the area, Davies is "the first one the police call" to assist them at the scene.

"A lot of public airports are considered playgrounds to the rich," the colonel notes,

"but that is really not true here." He explains that many of the airplanes out on the field are owned by less-than-wealthy hobbyists, and that flying lessons — while becoming more expensive all the time — are still within the reach of many.

And the importance of the airport to local industry can be seen in the numbers of business people who pass through there daily, often holding quick meetings in the terminal, he adds.

"I feel the airport is very important, not only for the city of Lawrence, but to the community, the Merrimack Valley. It's the only one we have in the area, the only one north of Boston. And we look for continued public support."

And Col. Thomas Davies sees himself running the airport for some time to come, on a job that offers him "something different every day", and doesn't always leave him much time for golf or a little bit of recreational flying.

A second retirement — this time not to a new career, but to his home in Florida and more time on the golf links — is still reserved for "someday."

Local Pianists Perform

Heather Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton A. Fritz, 186 Haggetts Pond Road, and Kerry Zembko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Zembko, 1 Pepperidge Circle, recently performed in the New England Pianoforte Teachers Association recitals in Boston.

Fritz, a senior at Andover High School, and Zembko, a sixth grader at West Elementary, are piano students of Elizabeth Poulo, 5 Mulberry Circle, Andover.

They were among a group of selected students that performed and received blue ribbons in recognition of their achievements.

German Students Hosted To Andover's Environs

By John P. Sawyer

They're thousands of miles away from home, but they're not homesick.

"People are really friendly," says Sabine Heiske.

"There's lots of generosity," adds Thomas Haen. "We haven't got this habit to say hello to anyone you don't know."

The exchange students from Germany have been greeted very warmly in Andover, and it's the friendliness here — the generosity and friendly "hello's" of local teenagers — that has been perhaps most striking for them.

In total, 19 high school pupils from Heidenheim, Germany — a town of 50,000 located about 100 miles northwest of Munich — are visiting and studying at Andover High School and residing for four weeks with Andover families. Local students visited Heidenheim last February.

In Heidenheim, "We have very beautiful landscape...hilly, lovely forest," says German teacher Heinz Ohler, who is supervising the exchange students here and residing with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Need, 13 Glenmeadow Road. German attorney Peter Greindl is also accompanying the students and residing with the Needs.

Sabine is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Seely, 21 Sheridan Rd., and Thomas is staying with Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton, 1 Hacienda Way.

Here are the other German students and their host families:

Stefan Haffner — Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fernandez, 4 Bateson Drive; Ute Stabler — Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith, 21 Pine St.; Christa Wanke — Mr. and Mrs. Jason G. Davis, 342 Salem St.; Regina Wiebrodt — Mr. and Mrs. Josef Schneider, 15 Bateson Drive; Maren Pahl — Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Roche, 46 Wildwood Road; Heike Roller — Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Seely, 21 Sheridan Road.

Also: Olaf Gebler — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Colley, 8 Sevilla Road; Christof Lutz — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jurek, 10 Chandler Road; Gabriele Wamser — Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gershenberg, 162 Lowell St.; Isabel Schade — Mr. and Mrs. Roland Belanger, 167 Greenwood Road; Daniela Kauder — Mr. and Mrs. T. Grogan, 60 Central St.; Ralf Donath — Mr. and Mrs. James Shea, 87 Chandler Road.

And: Sabine Becker — Mr. and Mrs. David Wahr, 1 Seneca Circle; Frank Autenreith — Mrs. Beth Myszewski, 80 Dascomb Road; Christian Berger — Mr. and Mrs. L. Kirkwood, 41 Sagamore Drive; Joachim Schultze — Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Eckoff, 7 Cameron Road; Ralf Schonborn — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins, 4 Brady Loop.

"It's quite a great experience," says Thomas.

Apart from the rigors of studying, the exchange students take field trips together, such as to Boston and the legendary 'witch town' of Salem. They also go places and enjoy activities with their host families. Some have gone skiing. During school vacation this week, one student will travel to Niagara Falls, another to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C. One student is headed for Florida to compete in a music contest.

But Frank Autenreith explains that the best thing about being here is probably just meeting and talking to new people in a country he has heard so much about.

Thomas says his impression has always been that the United States is "the country of never-ending possibilities."

Frank notes a common impression that America is rich is not necessarily true, and Thomas agrees, pointing out the economic differences between the cities of Lawrence and Andover, for example.

Teacher Heinz Ohler says there are many differences in attitudes the students may discover between the United States and Germany.

Policy on nuclear weapons is one example. The younger generation in Germany and much of Europe has embarked on a peace mission, rallying against the possibility of nuclear war, he explains. The United States has taken the position of dealing from strength in arms negotiations, but one reason for German and European reaction may be that, "We are the first to suffer from a serious argument...or dispute...if it comes to fighting," he says.

Ohler notes that America has a great deal of national self-assurance and says that while Americans practice personal tolerance, as a nation the United States is not so tolerant.

"We (Germany) have 11 neighbors (nearby countries)," he explains, pointing out that America is somewhat isolated in North America.

Atty. Peter Greindl, also accompanying the German exchange students, is particularly interested in social issues in the United States and the proceedings of Reaganomics. He was a mayor in Germany for 10 years, is interested in local government, and plans to attend Andover's town meeting. He attended his first baseball game last Saturday at Fenway Park.

While the German exchange students are here, they carry a full work load at school.

"We make them work hard," says Ohler. The goals for his students, he says, are to

East Junior High Happenings

By Jennifer Tucker and Tracy Lasch

One can easily tell when spring fever has struck East Junior High. As the temperatures begin to rise once again, so too do the spirits of the athletes and scholars. We are proud of everyone here at East. The baseball diamonds have been spotted with hopefuls for this year's baseball and softball teams. Gary Hendrickson of our English department, the softball coach, has informed us the team members include the captains, Betsy Murphy, pitcher, Jennifer Gagnon, second base and Darlene Cuddy, third base, are leading a fine team of eighth and ninth graders. Representing the ninth grade half of the team are Jennifer Kirkland, Peggy Lee, Becky Ellis, Dana Grogan, Laure McCormack and Amy Taylor. From the eighth grade are Mary Ellen Lee, Jennifer Ippito, Rubina Carver, Laura Hayes, Christine Gargalowitz, Laura Scileppi, Katy Murphy and Marlene MacIver. This talented and enthusiastic team, managed by Justine Koromhas and Mary Jane Dwyer, plans to defeat West Junior High in the East tradition when they play their first game April 17. The game promises to be an exciting one, especially since the fields are not ready and may be covered with snow.

Tryouts for the boys' baseball team, coached by Ted Boudreau of the science department, were held this week. The results will be posted next week.

Our third spring sport, track, has begun. Coaches Leo Lafond and Robert hatem of the science department, and James Hurley of the physical education department, plan to work this ambitious team to many victories.

We are all hoping for a successful season, and with such talented teams we are confident of many victories.

WESTern Round-Up

By Kristen James

Completion of the third term at Andover West Junior High has been marked.

The year so far has been a successful one both in extracurricular activities as well as academically. The students and faculty have upheld the motto, "Excellence in Everything." The basketball and football teams both had outstanding seasons and the music and dramatic productions also proved successful.

On the subject of success, the girls gymnastic team had a meet with the East Junior High team earlier this week. For the first time in several years the west gymnastic team beat the East team. West won by 1.4. Outstanding participants were Jennifer Byrne and Erin Sheehan; also, Kelly Johnson on floor and Debra Weisman on vault. Mr. Maglio, the coach, is preparing for an upcoming meet with Lexington. Congratulations and good luck!

Earlier this week auditions were held for a second drama production entitled "The Facts of Life" based on the popular television show. Susan Willard will play Mrs. Garrett; Michelle DeVoir as Blair; Beth Deacon as Jo; Amy Goldstein as Natalie; Lisa Horgan as Tootie.

Other characters include Julie Hovious as Molly; Karin Lewis as Margo; Betsy Cornell as the Matron; Kelly McCann as the Tough Girl.

Auditions for male cast will be held this week. Congratulations to all who were selected. Mrs. Bernardin is director of the play.

Another play will also be produced this year. The ninth grade ECHO class, under the direction of Mrs. Farrell and Mrs. Bernardin, plans to present "The Cop and the Anthem" for the annual open house. This comedy, written by O. Henry, is about a man with very unusual problem—he can't get arrested. The ECHO class is looking forward to producing this ironic comedy.

integrate into their American host families, do well at school, learn about a different school system and see as much of our country as possible.

Ohler added his own appreciation for his students' reception in Andover.

At a meeting of American host parents, he noted, "I expressed my thanks, my gratitude to them. All of my students are very happy."

Miss Waldman Is Engaged

Mrs. Ruth Waldman of Andover announces the engagement of her daughter, Deborah Anne, to Warren Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pearson of Melrose.

Miss Waldman, daughter of the late John Waldman, is a graduate of the University of Colorado/Boulder. She is a management accountant at State Street Bank of Boston.

Mr. Pearson graduated from Melrose High School and is a carpenter with Scott Builders in Melrose.

Garden Therapy Meeting

The unexpected Spring snow storm and the closing of schools two weeks ago caused a cancellation of the monthly garden therapy project plans at the special needs classes of West Elementary and Bancroft schools.

However, the Village Garden Club ladies of the Garden Therapy Committee delivered the craft of the month to each of the children's homes, to the delight of 15 children from Mrs.

Cochran's Big Wheels and Mrs. Szarfaz's Special Needs classes.

A holiday chick, the universal symbol of new life, was made of yellow macrame twine, felt mouth, lace hat and silk flowers mounted on a wicker paper plate holder.

Two workshops were held at the home of Maureen Gill, assisted by Betty Arnett, Cindy Madden, Sue Hays and Marilyn Carriers. David Carriere and Joey Imbriglio also were helpful in creating this well received April project.

Village Gardeners In Session

Pauline Jensen, a well known arranger in both Japanese and western styles, was speaker at the April 15 meeting of the Andover Village Garden Club. A member of the Massachusetts Garden Club Federation and the Massachusetts Chapter of the Ikenobo Society, Mrs. Jensen also teaches and is a lecturer of the Ikenobo School of Japanese Flower Arranging.

Several club members have been studying Japanese flower arranging with her for the past several years. Madelyn McKie was chairman for this program. Nina Anuff, Barbara Nelson and Sue Dietzel served on the committee. Sue Dietzel provided the centerpiece.

The pearl has been called the purest of gems, because it requires neither cutting nor polishing.

Symposium On Nicaragua

On Sunday, April 25, the Parish of Christ Church, Andover, will have a symposium on Nicaragua: Revolution as Spiritual Renewal.

The Rev. William J. Teska will present this symposium in the Parish Hall from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., sponsored by the Mission Committee of the parish. The Rev. Mr. Teska is the urban missionary for the Episcopal Diocese of Minnesota and the priest in charge of the Church of the Epiphany in St. Paul, Minn.

Nicaragua, a Central American country about the size of the state of Wisconsin, has been featured in the news for many months and it is difficult for most people to evaluate the reports. The influence of faith, Christianity and the Church is rarely reported in news releases from and about Nicaragua; but after a brief visit there this past year, Rev. Teska has come to see both the struggles and the victories from a fresh perspective. A lot is heard about political upheaval in these times, but rarely does the report include an interpretation of the events in light of the faith of the people.

The Rev. Mr. Teska is a graduate of Dartmouth College and the Berkeley Divinity School at Yal. He taught Sacred Studies at the Groton School in Groton and served as the associate chaplain at the University Episcopal Center at the University of Minnesota from 1968 through September 1981.

Reuse Group Confident But Cautious As Meeting Nears

After shaping up their battle plan for town meeting next week, members of the Reuse Committee seem confident voters will approve their plan for the future of East Junior High and other town buildings.

But if town meeting turns thumbs down on their proposal, Article 11 on the warrant (now moved up to Article 10), the east and west wings of the old junior high should be torn down "immediately," the town manager said, perhaps before autumn.

And that is something Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said he would have "very strong reservations about doing."

Meeting at Town Hall Tuesday night, committee members agreed to change some of the wording of the article to make its intention clearer to voters. They will amend the article on the floor of town meeting to incorporate those changes.

Chairman Lawrence Spiegel explained that in meetings with the Planning Board and League of Women Voters last week, he found some concern that the article gives town officials the power to dispose of town buildings without further town meeting approval.

Part A of the article asks voters to authorize the town manager to solicit developers' proposals for East, Town Hall, the Shawsheen School, the Essex Street Theatre Building, and Memorial Hall Library.

The committee will change the wording of Part A slightly to emphasize that future town meetings must approve or disapprove all proposals.

Part B asks for an appropriation of $3.5 million to renovate the junior high school to convert it into municipal offices.

The committee will change the language of that part to emphasize that town meeting must approve the amount of the appropriation, and that the town manager cannot sell or lease the buildings without further town meeting approval.

After solving their "semantics problem," as Spiegel called it, the committee went on to discuss an information sheet they will hand to voters at town meeting next week.

According to the summary of their major points, approval of the article would start the rehabilitation of East Junior High before the end of the summer; provide heating and security for the building next winter; and would get architectural planning underway on the library expansion.

Disapproval, on the other hand, would mean that the two wings would be torn down by autumn, Spiegel said.

The committee also heard a report from their consulting architect, who said final cost estimates show renovating East would cost $3.8 million.

Committee members said they were pleased with that figure, although it is higher than their estimate of $3.5 million. They indicated that it would be easy to trim costs without hurting the quality of the project.

And they heard another consultant's report, stating that if town offices vacated Town Hall and the theatre building, approximately 100 parking spaces would become available downtown every day.

Those spaces are currently occupied by town employees and residents who visit town offices in those two buildings every day.

The committee estimates that some 190 spaces could be included at EJH if town and school offices are moved there.

Mahony said the reuse article is likely to come up Monday night or early Tuesday night during what is expected to be a two-night town meeting next week.

School Construction Project Proceeding At Rapid Pace

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Construction on the secondary school building project is speeding along, especially at the new Doherty Junior High, which town officials say is going up at an amazing pace.

Building Project Manager William Mansell said this week the contractor, Peabody Construction, is "near the 50 percent mark" at Doherty.

About half the work of converting Doherty into a junior high school is complete, he explained, with most of the major and most expensive work done: "The steel is all in, the concrete is all poured, the grading is all done, the heating and ventilation system is well along."

In addition, the interior walls have been erected in the existing building, and are partially up in the new addition. This week, workers have been finishing the roof, exterior brick work, and the heating and electrical system.

Mansell estimated that the school will be 95 percent completed by July — right on schedule.

Across town at the "West site", additions to Andover High School and West Junior High are also "moving along fine," the project manager said. "according to schedule."

All the steel and decking is up at the high school, where a new auditorium is being built, and the interior is now being graded. Nearly 70 percent of the exterior block work is done, Mansell said, and the contractor is working on the interior block work as well.

At West Junior High, the contractor is ready to pour the concrete slab for the new Instructional Materials Center (also known as the pagoda), and the interior walls are "well along, 75 percent completed," he added.

Commenting on the contractor's fast pace, the project manager joked that they are "going too fast — they're making too much work for me."

Target date for completion of the three-part project is September, 1983.

Student Announces Candidacy

Brian R. Bresnahan has announced his candidacy for State Representative from the 17th Essex District.

A life-long resident of Andover, Bresnahan has attended both public and parochial schools in the Andover school system.

At Andover High School, he served as the junior and senior class vice president and on the School Climate Committee which studied the quality and effectiveness of the Andover school system in comparison with the other educational systems in Massachusetts.

Bresnahan graduates from the University of Rhode Island this May with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science and Speech Communications. He is employed at U.R.I. by the vice president of student affairs as the student ombudsman.

Bresnahan is a former coordinator of the University of Rhode Island student lobbying association and legislative intern and research assistant to the State Senate Judiciary Chairman, John C. Revers (D-Warwick). He has also been active in and around the community as a member of the Little Brother/Little Sister program and as a Cancer Society volunteer.

He is vice president of the Laurals chapter of the Mortar Board National Honor Society and a member of the Pi Sigma Alpha Political Science Honor Society and the University of Rhode Island Honors Program.

In announcing his intent, Bresnahan said, "I would like to combine a unique blend of experience and youthfulness in order to represent the needs and concerns of the people of Andover and Lawrence."

Bresnahan resides at 12 Lillian Terrace with his parents, Kathleen and Joseph Bresnahan.

From Harvard To England On A Marshall Scholarship

Seth Lloyd of Phillips Academy, Andover, will soon be leaving four years in Cambridge, Mass. behind, and moving on to two years in Cambridge, England.

A senior at Harvard University, the 21-year-old physics major has been awarded a Marshall Scholarship Award by the British Government. He will leave next September for two years of study at the University of Cambridge, with all expenses paid.

The son of Robert and Susan Lloyd, both teachers at Phillips Academy, Lloyd will graduate from Harvard in June. He will leave for England next September to study mathematics at Cambridge, working towards a Master's degree.

Lloyd will join the other Marshall Scholars in Washington, D.C., next fall, and they will travel to England together.

He will be studying under Cambridge's Mathematics Tripos program — considered the last two years of undergraduate study in England, but the equivalent of an American master's program. He will receive a graduate degree in 1984.

The Andover resident is one of only 30 students from across the nation to receive Marshall Scholarships (named after U.S. General George C. Marshall), selected from about 1,000 candidates. Applicants are chosen for their academic accomplishments, as well as other activities and achievements.

According to the British Embassy in New York City, N.Y., the scholarships were founded in 1953 "as an expression of British appreciation for the generous help given to Europe under the U.S. Marshall plan."

The scholarships pay for tuition at one of five universities (besides Cambridge: Edinburgh, London, Oxford, and Newcastle), and for living expenses in Britain, "with a little left over to encourage wider travel during the vacations," according to the embassy.

An Andover resident for most of his life,

Lloyd is a graduate of Phillips Academy. He attended Andover public schools, including the Central School, Bancroft, and East Junior High, where he belonged to the math club, played soccer, and was in the school orchestra and theatrical productions.

At Harvard, he is on the squash team, sings in the university choir, is marshall of Phi Beta Kappa, and is on the poetry board of the Harvard Advocate (the university's literary magazine). He also plays the flute, along with intramural soccer and hockey.

Although he says he is unsure where his future will take him, Lloyd says he applied for the Marshall Scholarship to avoid following the routine course of graduate study.

"I wanted to see the world a bit," he explains. "It's very easy to slip into the track of getting a degree, then getting another degree, then ending up teaching somewhere. I wanted to break that up a little bit."

School Building Bonds Sold

It took more than a year of waiting out high interest rates, but $13 million in bonds to permanently fund the school building project have finally been sold.

The selectmen agreed to sell a ten-year bond issue to their only bidder, an investment group headed by the First National Bank of Boston, last Thursday night on a four-one vote.

The town will immediately be handed $13 million. Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said. Because $4.7 million has already been spent on the building project (paid for with bond anticipation notes), $8.3 million will

Andover will pay back the bonds over the next ten years at a 10.269 percent interest rate, the kind of number town officials were hoping for.

"That rate is very impressive — it's far below what comparable communities have been getting," Mahony noted. He said it was a rate a Triple A community would be offered, even though Andover is officially a Double A community, according to Moody's (which rates municipalities as good or bad risks for bond investors).

When town meeting approved the building project two years ago, officials promised voters they would not exceed a 9.5 percent interest rate. But that promise — not legally binding — proved impossible to keep.

A rate that low, the town manager explained, "just isn't there" today.

The bonds were sold to a consortium of 40 banks and national investors, including E.F. Hutton, the Shawmut Bank, Chase Manhattan and Merrill, Lynch.

The bond sale will not effect the fiscal 1983 budget (or tax rate) that town meeting

The Choice Is Yours

There is constantly discussion on whether or not Andover has outgrown the town meeting system of operation, with views on both sides having some merit.

But, as long as the system, which is as old as the town itself, remains the community's manner of operation, then it remains the responsibility of the citizens to respond.

When the annual session convenes on Monday night at 7:30 in Memorial Auditorium, the issues will not be as "hot" or controversial as in years past. There are no major school construction issues to act upon, or such things as mosquitoes, dog leash laws or gypsy moths to debate.

This, however, does not diminish the importance of making the effort to get to the meeting and act on the town's business in what has been described as the purest form of democracy.

Among the items to be considered is the abolishing of the Finance Committee's power to block special town meetings through an adverse report on a financial item.

The Finance Committee is a valuable resource for Andover as they spend countless hours reviewing budgets prior to town meeting and making their recommendations to the voters prior to the annual meeting. The volunteer group also monitors financial operations of municipal government throughout the year and observes the doings of the major town boards and committee with an eye toward protection of the public.

But, to grant to this board the ability to deprive that same public from acting on an issue of importance, even if it be to a single-issue oriented cause, flies in the face of the open town meeting system.

Within the town charter as well as in the town of Andover, with its concerned citizens, there seem sufficient safeguards to protect against any special interests being served by a packed town meeting which the Fincom veto bylaw was designed to safeguard.

It is recommended that for the smooth flow of government and permitting the townspeople to rule their own financial destiny, this veto power be abolished by the voters at this town meeting.

The matter of the East Junior High reuse has been addressed here previously.

While there is a concerted effort on the part of the general public to restrain public spending, this project, as proposed, offers an investment in Andover's future. It provides for consolidation of municipal offices, planning for library improvements and development of improvements in the downtown area.

As planned and to be proposed to voters next week, the whole concept just seems too good a plan to pass up and an opportunity for townspeople to plan Andover's future --- a chance seldom offered in such a manner.

Budgets have been reviewed by municipal administrators and the Fincom. The "bottom line" figures are the considered judgment of what the town needs and can accept. There is, of course, the matter of the school department budget which has been reduced drastically due to the wishes of the residents who addressed the matter at the ballot box a few weeks ago. At that time the general public by an overwhelming majority said to include the school construction costs within the school operating budget. That is a decision the school committee has worked to live with in adjusting its budget to conform to the vote. It is to be hoped that there will be no further effort to adjust the budget through town meeting actions, either upward or downward as the case may be.

Finally, while the issues may not be as controversial as in past years, town meetings have a way of generally producing something of interest along the way, often a bit of humor, always lending the feeling of accomplishment to those who take the time to attend. It never proves a worthless exercise and participation is highly recommended.

The Public Forum

Representative Town Meeting

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

1. Here we go again! The school committee goes along with the superintendent in playing the pressure game on the teachers. "—the teaching staff to be reduced by 22," but the administrative heirarchy at Shawsheen School goes virtually unscathed. Example: we have one former principal who was later clerk of the works in school construction whose salary is equal to three classroom teachers' salaries and, as far as I know, they haven't found a title for him as yet—but they will as the heirarchy rolls on. This came about when the superintendent and the school committee found the grass greener in Cambridge country than in Hix-on country in Andover last year.

At last count, before the recent token cuts, there were approximately 70 teacher aides in the school system, the salaries of three aides approximates the salary of one beginning teacher. The classroom teacher is the most important cog in any school system. The aides should be the expendable ones, but evidently, this philosophy does not prevail

In the meantime, the morale of the teachers in the Andover schools continues to deteriorate (it was very low before this latest announcement) as they see their colleagues join the unemployed while the top-heavy administration in Shawsheen School remains relatively intact. "Austerity" does not apply to the upper echelon. Communication is in a sad state—strictly one way from the oracle on the heights.

2. After the fiasco about the gypsy moths where the selectmen tossed the ball to the finance committee to do the dirty work and thwart the democratic process of initiative to call a special town meeting, one wonders who represents whom.

Therefore, I heartily endorse what was written in the Public Forum of the April 8 TOWNSMAN. "It is far too late in the day for Andover to cling to the outmoded democratic town meeting. We should move to adopt a republican form of government by which is meant the plan of representative town meeting. It opens a different prospect and promises the cure for the extremes that are a notorious aspect of town meeting Andover style."

Representative Town Meeting would hold our elected and appointed officials much more accountable to the people of the town.

The plan in brief:

A. 33 representatives elected from each precinct:

B. At its inception, 11 representatives for one-year terms, 11 for two-year terms and 11 for three-year terms:

C. Thereafter, all would be elected for three-year terms—but only one third of the representatives would come up for re-election each year (similar to the U.S. Senate);

D. Prior to town meeting each precinct would have a night set aside for the use of the auditorium on which occasion all the voters in that precinct would assemble to instruct their representatives how they wanted them to vote on the articles in the warrant;

E. At town meeting only the 33 representatives of each precinct would have voting power—a total of 198 from the six precincts;

F. Other voters in the town could attend the meeting as long as seating room is available and speak briefly on a particular article in the warrant, provided they had made a request to be heard to the moderator prior to the date of the town meeting.

I am certain there are enough responsible citizens in each precinct who would be interested in running for representative. As a matter of fact, I think the whole idea of representative town meeting would be a stimulant to help eliminate citizen apathy.

Appreciative

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

As I conclude my two years in the presidency of the Andover Historical Society, I wish to take this opportunity to thank you on behalf of the board of directors and all the members of the society for the outstanding publicity which we received in the pages of the TOWNSMAN.

I am certain that your cooperation in bringing our activities and lectures to the attention of your readers has been of great value in helping the community at large have a better understanding of who we are and what exactly we offer for them. In particular, I remember the excellent coverage of our archaeological dig at Shattuck Farm. This was an important undertaking for the society and we were pleased to share it with the public through your articles and photographs.

The town of Andover is fortunate to have such a fine local newspaper.

Beverly played a strong game throughout and the name of the game was excellent defense to minimize the loss. Andover Boys Win

By Kelly Shannon

Last Saturday, the Andover High boys track team opened their spring season with a first place finish in the 15-school Haverhill High Invitational.

Russel Lewis and sophomore standout, Peter Comeau, led the way for Andover. Lewis won the long jump with 20'7½" and was a member of the triumphant 440 relay team. Other members of the one-lap relay included Jeff Guterman, Gary Milne and anchorleg Gary Ewell (45.4). Comeau captured the 330-yard low hurdles with an excellent time of 40.6. The 880 relay team (Phil Vanschylwck, Eric Kent, Comeau and Jim Denencourt) crossed the finish line first with a time of 1:37.7. Greg Batten was victorious in the 120-yard high hurdles (15.3) and John McLellan won the javelin with a remarkable throw of 170'.

Second place finishers included: Mike Lucey in the 120-yard high hurdles (15.7); Gary Milne in the 100 (10.4); Carl schwind in the mile (4:38); and the shuttle hurdle relay consisting of Batten, Lucey, Ted Kelley and Craig Silva.

Rick Desmaris placed third in the 880 with a time of 2:06; Mike Walsh was third in the triple jump (40'11"), while Gerry Fox tossed the javelin 162'6" to place third.

Placing fourth were: Craig Silva in the triple jump (40'4"); Ewell in the 220 (23.3); Joe Zemis in the high jump (5'10"); Dave Souter in the pole vault (11'); Rick Dow in the mile (4:49); the mile relay consisting of Joe Smith, Wayne Giles, Bill Martin and Joe Glynn; and the two-mile relay team (Dave Eckoff, Tony Holbrook, Allen Mattedi and Scott James).

Sixth place finishers included: Jeff Gross (discus 122'4"); Scott Newman (long jump 19'4½"); Kelley (high jump 5'8"); Ted Morris (triple jump 38'8"); Joe Smith (440.53.3); and John Hevehan (880.2:09.8).

In the non-scoring junior varsity events, Jim Denencourt captured the 220 in 24.8, while Ean Dowe won the shotput with a throw of 42

The recent heavy snowfall delayed start of the Essex County League. However, that did not dampen the enthusiasm of the players who took to the fields last weekend in and out of town. The In-Town Program games will begin this weekend with Mother Nature's cooperation. Brief results of the Essex County games appear below:

Under 14 Boys Division
Andover Cosmos 2
Boxford S.C. 2

Boxford played a strong first half and took an early lead; however, Andover tied it up when Chris Abell scored on a pass from David Bartle. In the second half, Mike Hardock put Andover ahead when he assaulted the nets on a pass from Cort Pomeroy. Boxford came back and added another and the game ended in a hard fought tie. BOW: Steve Colitz, Cort Pomeroy and Larry Aiello.

Andover Kicks 4
Beverly Huskies 0

The Andover Kicks controlled much of the play although they were only able to get the ball into the nets once (John Saalfrank on a pass by Henning Ohlenbusch) in the first half. They added three more goals in the second half (Jon Pedicino, Larry Prestia and Robin Kim; Mark Neaves and Kim assisted on the first two) and denied Beverly any successful shots on their nets, to win a 4-0 victory. BOW: Gary Ziegler, James Saalfrank and Geoff Bolan.

Andover Roughnecks 2
Ipswich Strikers 1

Ipswich dominated the play in the first half and made many shots on goal, all blocked by alert goalie Matt Murphy. In the second half Ipswich took the lead following a scramble in front of the Andover nets; however, Andover quickly tied it up when Bill Earnshaw tallied on a corner kick and won the victory when Chris Gully scored on a pass from Cameron Deery. BOW: Sun Jing Park and Mike O'Connor.

Andover Sting 11

North Andover Roughnecks 0

North Andover, with less than a full complement of players, were challenged by a strong Sting team who dominated throughout and tallied a total of 11 goals before the final whistle. Kicking in the goals were Jim DiClemente (2) on passes from Matt Dorsey and Tom Graham, Shannon McCabe (2), one on a pass from Chris DiClemente, Graham (2) on passes from McCabe and Chris DiClemente, Jamie O'Brien (2), one on a pass from Dennis Sampson, Mike Nelligan and Eric Buchholz.

WalkAmerica

Walking is such a natural part of our physical movement that most people take it for granted. But on April 25, people all over the country will demonstrate their concern for the unborn and the newborn by participating in the March of Dimes WalkAmerica. Last year's WalkAmerica saw more than one million people participate across the U.S.

Walkers will begin their 25 kilometer trek at 9 a.m. from the South Common, Union and Salem Streets. The pledges they collect will assist march of Dimes programs of research, medical service and education. In the Greater Lawrence area, funds will be used to support national and local programs.

Under 14 Girls Division Andover Fantastics 1 Saugus Diplomats 3

Saugus tallied three goals in the first half to take a commanding lead. Andover worked hard in the second half and made some good shots on the nets, however, alert defense held them to one goal booted in by Cheryl Crawford on a fine pass by Jenny Cook, and Saugus won the victory points. BOW: Kathy Griffin, Shawntel Flaig and Debbie Makrikos.

Andover Fireballs 1

Andover Flares 0

With the strong winds in their favor, the Fireballs played an aggressive first half and made some excellent shots on net, all but one denied by good defense, which was kicked in by Justin Scarbeau on a pass by Kathy Veno. The play was more even in the second half, however, the Flares were not able to tally and the Fireballs won the victory points. BOW: Susan Clark and Jahna Boutin (Fireballs) as well as Lori Nelson and Christine Morey (Flares).

Andover Flames 1

Beverly Hawks 1

The Andover Flames controlled much of the game and tallied in the first half when Deborah Girdwood kicked in the ball on a pass by Elizabeth Erban. Towards the end of the second half, Beverly assaulted Andover's nets, and the game ended in a tie. BOW: Marci Lebowitz, Martha Fraser and Kelly Andry.

Under 16 Boys Division Andover Braves 2 Haverhill Raiders 2

Andover took the lead in the first half when Chris Arserio kicked in the ball on a fine pass from David Reed. Haverhill tied it up in the same half. In the second half, Andover made it 2-1 when Rob Wright stole the ball from the goalie and scored. Haverhill put on the pressure, tied it up and made some excellent attempts for the win, however, goalie Ed McParland guarded his nets with class, including a spectacular point blank save to preserve the tie for Andover. BOW: David Reed, Ed McParland and Vinnie Fichera.

Andover Sweepers 1 Topsfield United 3

The Andover Sweepers were challenged by arch-rivals Topsfield United throughout the contest, which was noteworthy for the gusty winds prevailing. Andover took the lead very early when David Keene assaulted Topsfield's nets, however, Topsfield tied it up and added another before the half ended. In the second half, Topsfield added to their score, and they won a 3-1 victory. BOW: Steve McDowell, Brian Sheehy.

Under 16 Girls Division Andover Furies 2 Salem Shooting Stars 0

The Andover Furies controlled much of the action in their game with the Salem Shooting Stars and scored once in the first half (Kathy Neaves) and added another in the second when Suzanne Curley scored on a pass by Aimee Ross. They held the competition scoreless and won a 2-0 victory. BOW: SaraMichelle Sapuppo, Joanne Martin and Kathy Dolan.

Under 19 Boys Division Andover Stingers 7 Merrimac Athletics 3

Andover held a 3-2 edge at the end of the first half, with goals by Paul Thoday and Adam Roberts (2). Early in the second half, Merrimac tied it up but the Stingers took control and kicked in four more to win a decisive victory. Second half goals were scored by Paul Thoday, John Lemieux, Paul Finnegan and Dan Roberts. BOW: Todd Lockwood and Adam Roberts.

Andover Stoppers 4 Beverly Panthers 0

Andover dominated the first half of their game with Beverly and kicked in two goals (Jim Denoncourt, one on a pass from Steve Carbone) to take a 2-0 lead. The play was much more even in the second half, however, the Stoppers added another two while denying the competition any successful shots on their nets (Greg Batten on a pass by Carbone, and Carbone on a pass by Batten). BOW: Peter Surret and Robert Retelle.

Andover Girls Compete

By Kelly Shannon

The Andover girls track team scored 38 points to finish sixth in the Lawrence Invitational Girls Track Meet last Saturday. Out of 17 teams, Beverly was the overall winner with 75 points, Billerica finished second and Reading was third.

The Andover quartet of Pippi Saalfrank, Patti Messersmith, Mary Ann Nuzzo and Nicole Marcella won the 4x100 meter hurdle relay in 69.1.

Sophomore Mary Hurley crossed the finish line in 12:30.7 to place third in the two mile. Tri-captain Amy Lander placed third in the 440 with a time of 61.9. The mile relay team, consisting of Kathy Batson, Hurley, Kelly Shannon and anchorleg Lander, took third with a time of 4:28.5.

Tri-captain Cynthia Surret cleared 5' to place fourth in the high jump. Debby Harmoning took fifth place in the shotput with a throw of 29'11½". Leigh Wragg tossed the javelin 103'7" to place fifth.

Andover had three relay teams placing sixth: Surret, Mary Trupeano, Wragg and anchorleg Kally Cutler (440 relay); Lillian Wang, Allison McCabe, Louise Perry and anchorleg Sue Hillman (880 relay); Stacey Allickman, Kay Batchelder, Laurie Bourdelais and anchorleg Katie Gingras (two-mile relay).

Mites Lose In Playoffs

It had to end sometime. Or rather, last Saturday was the only time it could have ended. Regretably, it did. The Mites' unbeaten run as broken at the tenth game as Andover failed at the last to bring the Mites Division II championship home.

The early signs were ominous: Andover made several chances, but did not score; the opposing goalie looked excellent; then Swampscott got the go-ahead goal when a harmless-looking pass deflected in off an Andover back-checker. The end was equally frustrating. Fighting a 3-2 deficit with two minutes remaining, Andover conceded a penalty shot. An empty net goal followed, leaving a scoreline that did little to reflect the shots-on-goal superiority of the Andover team. Score was Swampscott 5 - Andover 2.

won. BOW: Cindy Surret and Beth Luciano.

Andover Flames 0

Salem Swingers 3

Salem played aggressively throughout and led 2-0 at the end of the first half. In the second half the Flames put on the pressure, but good defense held them scoreless and when Salem added another to their total, they won. BOW: Claire Hollenbeck, Connie Corkery and Leah Rochwarg.

All Stars Have Mixed Success

By Rick Harrison

The Andover All-Stars combined eighth and ninth grade basketball team played to mixed reviews this past week, winning its opening round game in the Arlington Spring Festival Tournament after dropping a semifinal round contest in the Lexington Invitational Tournament.

Andover raced to a flashy 20-point lead in the second quarter at the Arlington tourney, but later had to hold on for dear life before edging Joe's Restaurant of Brockton 70-69 at the Arlington Boys' Club court.

In the Lexington semifinals, Andover hung tough for one half with the Holland Community School team from Roxbury-Dorchester before succumbing 77-47 as the winners unleashed a devastating fast break in the final two periods.

The Andover crew, which has now played six games (5-1 record) decided by four or less points, will return to Arlington Tournament action on April 29 against the survivor of the upcoming Belmont-Cohasset contest.

Andover has pulled out tight victories over Buddies of Lexington (36-35 at New Bedford), Orchard Park of Roxbury (75-73), Crowley's of Arlington (84-80 in overtime), and Joe's Restaurant of Brockton (70-69). The locals also dropped a 34-31 decision to the New Bedford Boys' Club.

Andover, 70-69

Surviving one of its shakiest performances of the tournament season, Andover bolted to a 40-24 halftime lead before being outscored 45-30 in the second half by Brockton.

The winners led 19-5 after one quarter, and built the lead to 25-5 early in the second period.

Brockton outscored Andover 29-12 in the third period, with sharpshooter Bob Hamilton and Bill Holden combining for 27 of those points, as Joe's grabbed its first lead of the game at the buzzer on a lay-up by Hamilton.

The lead seesawed a number of times in the fourth period, with Andover dropping three points behind on two different occasions, but clutch baskets by Tim Perry, Joe Hart and Steve Gemmell along with free throws from Bill Lane and Dan Sheehan preserved the victory.

The win wasn't assured, however, until Hamilton missed the back end of a one and one free throw situation with just 0:03 to play.

Perry pulled down the rebound of the missed shot to nail down the decision.

Once again the foul line was one of Andover's chief enemies.

Although the difference in personal fouls wasn't that great, 24 against Andover and 17 against Brockton, the winners went to the line just 17 times as opposed to 38 times for Brockton.

Andover held a sizable 31-24 edge in fieldgoals, but the winners hut just 8-of-17 at the line to Brockton's 21-for-38.

Andover placed three men in double figures, led by Tim Perry whose 32 points marked the third time this Spring he has surpassed the 30-point plateau.

Billy Lane fired through 12 points and was a key player off the defensive boards in the final quarter, while Joe Hart contributed 11 points.

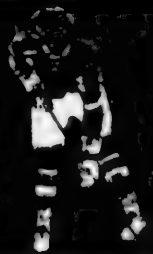

Chris Bartley tossed in 5 points, Dan Sheehan and Doug Rotondi netted 4 apiece and Steve Gemmell 2.

Scott Wilkins and Larry Aiello also played well for Andover, which has averaged 69 points per game for the last four contests

Growing Gould-Modicon Is Setting The Pace

By John P. Sawyer

No one can say they're not on top of things. "We're growing," explained John Yeager, manager of marketing communications at Gould-Modicon, Inc., "and doing very well."

That may be an understatement.

The Andover firm is doing so well, despite tough economic times, that 2,000 employees will be added during the next five years as the firm's sales of programmable controllers used in factory automation grows.

That will increase the work force from its present 1,300 employees to 3,300.

And Gould-Modicon is doing something about the personnel end of its business, as well.

The firm has worked with Northern Essex Community College (NECC) to develop a training program to upgrade technically unskilled workers to electronic technicians and testers at the local plant.

This way, present employees can move up into higher paying jobs, providing a skilled work force needed by the company and leaving entry-level positions open for unskilled and unemployed workers.

Thus, employees and employers alike stand to benefit as Gould-Modicon grows.

PERSONNEL SYSTEM:

Here's how the new training program works:

Funding is provided partially by Title VII of the Comprehensive Employment Training Act through the Lower Merrimack Valley Industrial Advisory Council. A one-year grant from the city of Lawrence subgrantee of $69,800 is matched by a Gould in-kind $90,516 contribution.

Gould provides the space, an electronics lab and technical assistance.

The training program curriculum is designed and delivered by NECC for 36 employees at Gould enrolled in the program. Students who complete the program receive 14 college credits, are eligible for promotions, and their entry-level jobs can be filled by CETA-eligible workers.

NECC has successfully implemented campus and on-site training programs with other major area employers such as Western Electric, Honeywell and Compugraphic. The agencies involved in the program at Gould believe it will serve as a model for training delivery and consider it an innovative method of meeting critical labor shortages in the area.

Gould-Modicon Facility In Shawsheen

ages in the area.

EXPANDING OPERATIONS:

In the next five years, Gould-Modicon will double its space by about 7.5 acres at its Shetland Industrial properties location to accommodate the hundreds of employees it expects to hire. In 10 years, Gould-Modicon's sales have risen from about $3 million annually to over $100 million last year.

Yeager noted that a relatively low level of hiring exists at the company at the moment, and he said the addition of new employees will be "a gradual increase."

Gould-Modicon has not been completely immune to the sagging economy.

The company's annual growth has been 50 percent or more over the past several years, according to Yeager, and it's below that now.

"We're so used to 50 percent growth a year," he said, "(that) we look a little gloomy (if that level is not attained)."

He added, "There's still enough business coming in for us to maintain a satisfactory growth."

Indeed, the firm is quite optimistic.

Here's what possibly sets Gould-Modicon apart, according to Yeager, from other (winning three) but allowed an average of 74 per game.

Hamilton was immense for Brockton, pouring through 40 points including 12-for-17 at the free throw line.

Only four players scored for the losers, Holden adding 18 points and Bill Collett seven.

Holland, 77-47

Holland, which enjoyed advantages in size and overall team speed, turned a seven-point halftime lead into a 30-point victory by unveiling a devastating fast break.

Even when the Andover crew kept a man back n defense it rarely stopped the Holland break, which accounted for better than half the winners points in the Lexington Tournament semifinal at the Hayden Recreation Center.

Andover took an early 12-8 lead, and the lead changed hands several times in the first two quarters.

However, a 10-2 Holland burst over the final two minutes of the half enabled the Roxbury-Dorchester team to grab a 34-2 advantage at intermission.

Andover remained within striking distance for a brief time in the third period, with a three-point play by Dan Sheehan making it 41-33, but it was all downhill from there.

Holland scored almost at will on the fast break over the final 12 minutes, and in its haste to catch up Andover's shot selection was not the best.

Bill Lane produced an outstanding all-around effort with 1 points, 10 rebounds and several flashy assists.

Tim Perry led the Andover attack with 18 points, Dan Sheehan and Joe Hart flipped through 5 points each, Doug Rotond added 4 and Larry Aiello notched a basket.

Beau Jones, Steve Gemmell, Chris Bartley and Scott Wilkins also performed well.

McCrackens Takes It All

The Department of Community Services Men's Junior Basketball League season came to an end last Thursday evening when McCrackens topped P & M Cleaning to capture the championship for the second straight year. It took McCrackens only two games to defeat P & M, winning the first game by two points and the second by nine points.

Bill Bucu of McCrackens was very pleased to win both the regular season and playoff championship for the second straight year. "The guys worked hard for this one. We wanted to win both titles back to back and we did. It was very satisfying."

To reach the finals, McCrackens has to defeat a very good Howarth team. Paced by Al Eggart and Alex Palmer, Howarth gave McCrackens a run for their money in taking that series to three games before losing. The third game saw the lead change hands numerous times before a quick spurt at the end by McCrackens gave them the victory.

P & M played well throughout the tournament. Led by Mike Sadowski, they defeated Trombly in their semifinal match in two games. Game one was up for grabs right down to the last second with P & M winning by only two points. They won game two by five, despite the outstanding performances of Trombly's J. Arnold and Bill Caron.

Members of the championship McCrackens team are: Bill Bucu, Tom Enright, Tom Teichman, Neal McCann, Jay Enright, Jake Powers, Tommy Mahann, Steve Murgo and Danny Sullivan.

Babe Ruth Tryouts

The Andover Babe Ruth Blue and Gold baseball teams will hold their final round of tryouts this weekend, with workouts running from 12 noon to 4 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday at the Andover High varsity field.

All 13-year-old candidates should report between 12 noon and 2 p.m. both days, while all 14 and 15-year-old candidates should report between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. both days.

A total of 48 candidates were on hand for a pair of windswept workouts last weekend, and the total is expected to surpass 50 this weekend when several prospective players return from vacation week trips.

There are still several openings in the 15-year-old age bracket, with the turnout light in that department.

All 30 positions, 15 on each team, are open.

The Blue and Gold squads will be selected next week, prior to upcoming Senior League tryouts. Players unable to attend last weekend's tryouts will be given equal consideration this weekend. For further information, contact either John Gibson (475-6470) or Rick Harrison (475-2007).

high-tech firms struggling through economic recession:

THE MARKET for programmable controllers is fast growing.

GOULD-MODICON has diversified its business so that a slump in one particular industry cannot hurt sales as much. Gould-Modicon started out with close ties to the automotive industry, and while automotive is still a big client, according to Yeager, major orders in the past month have included other industries such as chemicals, food, power generation, petro-chemicals and metal producing, just to name a few.

GOULD-MODICON is a leader in its industry. "We have dominated the programmable controllers market," said Yeager. The firm corners 39-40 percent of the industry, although the competition is likely to get tougher, he said.

NEW PRODUCTS promote success. For example, MODVUE — a CRT (cathode ray tube) which can create a 'picture' of an industrial process — can be used in conjunction with a programmable controller to operate a factory or a number of machines.

"It's what we call an interactive display," said Yeager.

Gould-Modicon has also come out with a small programmable controller, which sells for under $1,000, and it's working out well, he said.

"That inventiveness has a lot to do with our growth," Yeager noted.

Group In Concert

Eternity, a 17-member musical group will present a concert of contemporary Christian music for people of all ages this Saturday at the Andover Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. The concert is open to the public free of charge.

Members of the church and the Eternity group will enjoy a covered dish supper at 6 p.m. in the church vestry.

Richard Wulf, youth pastor of the church, and the junior high youth group are supervising the supper arrangements.

T.W.I.G.S Meet

Vincent C. Manzi, Jr., an attorney from Lawrence, will discuss will preparation, reciprocal wills, trust funds, guardianship, property settlement and probate court proceedings at an April 26 meeting of T.W.I.G.S. at South Church. T.W.I.G.S. is a social circle of South Church meeting every other Monday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. All women of the community are invited. For babysitting, call Janice Zinicola.

will consider next week, because it was anticipated and built into the budget, the manager said.

However, the higher interest rate will cost the town $70,000 more than planned: that will be absorbed into the town budget. The rest of the interest costs will be carried by the school budget over the next decade.

Selectman Edward Harris voted against the ten-year issue, favoring a 13-year issue instead because it would take the burden of the building program further into the future, to effect future taxpayers as well as current residents.

But the longer issue would have cost the town another $700,000 in interest payments, at 10.49 percent, and the majority of the board felt it was not worth the added cost to stretch the payments out by only three years.

Construction is well underway on the $13.72 million project approved by 1980 annual town meeting (with the extra $72,000 already appropriated by a previous town meeting at that point).

The Doherty school is being converted into a junior high school, with a new addition and East Junior High's Memorial Auditorium to be part of the school.

Andover Precious Metals — Fine Jewelry

When you visit Andover Precious Metals, 77 Main St., Andover, you will experience a unique jewelry store to this area. Andover Precious Metals has brought the Jewelers Building Concept to Andover by offering fine jewelry at discount prices.

At Andover Precious Metals they teach the customer to know what he is buying. Gold is bought and sold according to the weight and priced according to the New York market price of the day. The prices of gold per gram is posted everyday at Andover Precious Metals. There is also a scale to weigh the gold. This way the customer knows the exact weight of the piece of jewelry and the price being asked per gram. In other words, the customer will know what he or she is buying.

Visit Andover Precious Metals and have them explain this discount concept to you. You will discover an exclusive line of fine jewelry. They sell only 14 and 18 karat gold—nothing is gold-filled. They carry a fine selection of diamonds in all price ranges. Also, a good portion of their jewelry is handmade. They do a good deal of custom work, designing jewelry for their customers and offer only the finest in craftsmanship and quality.

Their complete line of gold jewelry includes handmade engagement and wedding rings, chains, charms, pendants, earrings and bracelets for men and women. Their handmade wedding bands are offered in three different colors of gold. A large selection of quartz Seiko watches can also be found at Andover Precious Metals.

Owner Frank DiVincenzo has been involved with the jewelry business since 1973. In 1976 he opened Blue Gem Inc. at the Methuen Mall and has been in Andover for a year. Frank is an authorized Krugerands dealer. He attended the Gemological Institute in California and New York for a specific background in diamonds. He will appraise your diamonds as well as your gold jewelry.

In addition to the advantage of listing our properties with all 17 of our offices, we are finding our new location very beneficial. Located in the heart of the downtown business district, our new office exposes our houses to the busy foot traffic generated by shops, banks, and restaurants. As a result, new interest is focused on each listing and this has already paid off. Stop by and see the changes.

SIGNS AND MUSHROOMS

In the spring "for-sale" signs pop up like mushrooms after the rain. Many prospective sellers wait until the tulips bloom thinking that their homes will bring a better price in a lush setting.

Spring is not necessarily the best time to sell your house. Perhaps you do not realize that large companies inform their employees of transfers shortly after the first of the year. Consequently, we see many transferees, (some of our finest buyers) before the bloom of spring. Although these people come early in the year, they will gladly wait until the school year ends to make their move to the area.

During the months between notification and the actual move, the buyer is most anxious for the security of an established address in his new town.

If you are thinking of selling your house, we will be happy to give you all the fix-it-up advice you need, if any.

Don't wait for the grass to grow under your feet.

Townsend Appointed Superintendent

Public Works employee Andrew Townsend has been named the town's new superintendent of Spring Grove Cemetery, effective April 1.

Townsend, who has worked in the cemetery in the past, "really knows the operation," according to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony. "We were lucky to get him."

Townsend succeeds Stephan J. Barnford, who resigned to accept another position.

SUPPLEMENT TO

The ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

APRIL 22, 1982

All Properties Listed

The new assessment listings in this edition are provided by the Assessors Department and published as a service by the Andover Townsman with the assistance of many participants in this special 72-page section.

Each listing contains reading from left, the assessors map parcel number, unit number, property owner listing, location listing and total property value.

New Andover Property Values Are Listed

By John P. Sawyer

Today's special TOWNSMAN supplement features a listing of all revaluation figures for Andover property owners.

Included is a total of 9,718 parcels of taxable property. That figure accounts for 8,601 total residential properties, 658 total commercial properties, 185 total industrial properties and 274 parcels of open space.

The total valuation of the town's real and personal property is $987,586,100, including a total residential evaluation of $708,801,670, a total commercial valuation of $99,394,470, a total industrial valuation of $143,823,290, a total open space valuation of $12,138,670 and the total valuation of personal property at $23,428,000.

With a tax base of $19,257,928.95, Andover's tax rate is $19.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Tax bills were mailed out to Andover property owners earlier this month, and the bills must be paid by May 7. This is also the final date to file an appeal of your tax bill if you suspect an error. All right of appeal is lost if not filed by May 7, according to Town Assessor William H. Russell.

One-hundred applications for appeal have already been filed, and although he cannot say for sure, Russell predicts about 300 more may be filed.

The local Board of Assessors has three months to act upon such appeals.

"The board is looking at total value," he said

The Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium in Shawsheen is undergoing renovation and alteration to become offices. A group of physicians purchased the property from the town after it had been acquired when Sacred Heart School sold its Andover holdings. The building has had an interesting history, being originally the Crystal Ballroom, then office space for the Raytheon Company when it occupied the Shawsheen Mills and finally a gymnasium for the school and the town before its current conversion.

*TO MATCH THE TAX FREE SAVINGS GENERATED BY A GRUMMAN SUNSTREAM SYSTEM, A HOMEOWNER IN THE 40% TAX BRACKET WOULD HAVE TO AVERAGE A 24% RETURN OVER 10 YEARS ON A TAXABLE INVESTMENT. THIS ASSUMES SOLAR IS REPLACING ELECTRICITY AT 7¢ PER KWH, A 10% PER YEAR INCREASE IN THE COST OF ELECTRICITY, AND TAKES ADVANTAGE OF THE 40% FEDERAL ENERGY TAX CREDIT.

5% OF THE TIME,
THE SAAB APC TURBO IS AS GOOD AS ANY OTHER TURBO ON THE ROAD.

THE REST OF THE TIME, IT'S BETTER.

All modern turbos are designed to work well under poor conditions. With low octane gas or in hot, dry weather, for example.

The problem is that you run into these conditions only about 5% of the time you're on the road. The other 95% of the time, ordinary turbos just don't live up to their full potential.

The solution to this is the 1982 Saab APC Turbo. Under normal driving conditions, it can actually adjust boost pressure as you drive. Increasing efficiency, power and fuel economy at the same time.

And delivering throttle response that must be experienced to be appreciated.

There's no question that building a turbo to stand up to potential problems is an intelligent thing to do.

But buying one that can live up to its full potential is even more intelligent.

SAAB

The most intelligent car ever built.

New Construction

Despite difficult economic conditions, An Andover address remains popular according to new construction permits and sale of new or existing homes in town.

It is now twice as easy to choose a Mercedes-Benz Turbodiesel.
Or is it twice as hard?

For 1982, two more examples of advanced Mercedes-Benz diesel technology are yours to experience: the 300 D Turbodiesel is a refined family sedan and the 300 CD Turbodiesel Coupe is a limited-production two-plus-two machine. Each is a spirited performance automobile. Each represents the state of the diesel engineering art.

But now that there are four Mercedes-Benz turbodiesels blending turbocharged power with proven diesel efficiency, a question remains. How do you even begin to determine which turbodiesel suits you best?

You begin, of course, with a test drive

'Vale Mills

While high technology predominates Andover's new industrial residents, a reminder of bygone days remains in the Ballardvale area where the Shawsheen River drifts lazily by the old mill complex, retaining an old New England flavor to modern technology.

To Be Recycled

The Bradlee School in Ballardvale, abandoned as an educational facility over 20 years ago, will soon be converted to residential property. Last year's town meeting voted to sell the property to Francis P. Reilly for construction of apartment units, as a result of a recommendation by Ballardvale residents.

Chiropractic and Arthritis

Millions of American suffer from pain and stiffness due to arthritis. What many fail to realize is that arthritis is a progressive disease that if left untreated will eventually lead to total joint fusion. While chiropractic care cannot reverse the destruction caused by the arthritic condition, it can oftentimes greatly alleviate the discomfort that follows and arrest further destruction by increasing mobility and body balance.

Chiropractic care in conjunction with exercise, dietary considerations, and proper rest all contribute to a healthier you.

Call to arrange for a chiropractic consultation and exam.

explaining that some people may feel their land, and maybe not their house, is valued too high. Although such objections will be considered, and barring any mistake in the tax bill, "if the total value looks good, that's where it's going to stay," he said.

The town signed a contract in April 1980 with the firm PRC Jacobs to conduct Andover's revaluation — an attempt to adjust out-of-date assessments resulting from some property values rising more than others over the years.

Revaluation brings tax books up to date by assessing property at or near current market value. The process officially ended here April 7, 1982, when tax bills were mailed out.

About 3,000 taxpayers (a "little above the average") requested hearings on the revaluation of their property, said Russell. Changes were made, mostly downward adjustments, in about 50 percent of those cases.

But Andover's assessor noted that in the process of the hearings, some errors were found that resulted in value increases.

"Not everyone's value was reduced," he said. Reasons for the higher than usual number of revaluation hearing requests, according to Russell, were:

1. "The (revaluation) company overlooked the application of wetlands to their valuation process." Wetlands maps were reviewed, he said, and value changes were made.

2. Land values have increased, and that caught most people by surprise.

If a property owner appeals his tax bill to the Board of Assessors and is unhappy with the board's decision on the matter, he can file with the state Tax Appellate Board. But Russell noted that it could take up to three years for the state to hear and decide the case.

And with revaluation occurring throughout Massachusetts — two-thirds of the state's towns have undergone the process and next year will include the rest — it could take even longer for the Appellate Board to hear tax appeals, he said.

This latest revaluation process is the third since procedure for the town since 1967.

Following that revaluation process, Andover assessors began a plan to have the assessments updated every ten years.

The next revaluation period was accepted without much difficulty by town meeting, but in more recent years the proposal to review the town was met with considerable opposition at annual and special town meetings.

After two or three attempts to get funding for a new 100 per cent revaluation by the town was met with defeat, the state department of revenue and taxation came into the picture, ordering the town, through court order, to conform to a Supreme Court ruling which mandated all cities and towns in the Commonwealth must assess property at 100 per cent fair market value.

Had the town not funded the project, the state would have come in and done the revaluation and charged the town for the process, at the same time assigning their own revaluation firm to the job.

It is anticipated that through use of the town's data processing systems, these current values will be able to be maintained more readily through easier access to records and more up-to-date maintenance of property values in the community.
